up, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, Miss F[illegible]

AYER I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the [illegible] we possess for the cure of [illegible] Croup, Cough, [illegible] diseases of children. We of your fraternity in [illegible] appreciate your skill, and commend your [illegible]

HIRAM CONKLIN M D

EE, Esq, MONTEREY, IA, writes 3d Jan 1856 "[illegible] Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks [illegible] medicines without relief finally tried your Pectoral [illegible] advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the [illegible] my throat and lungs less than one half the bottle [illegible] completely well. Your [illegible] they are the [illegible] best we can buy and we esteem you Doctor, and [illegible] as the poor man's friend

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb 4, 1856.

Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous [illegible] tion. It has relieved several from alarming symp[illegible] and is now curing a man who has labored [illegible] of the lungs for the last forty years

HENRY L PARKS, Merchant.

RAMSEY, M D, ALBION, MONROE Co, Iowa, writes [illegible] During my practice of many years I have found [illegible] equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and [illegible] sumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

Consumption.

[illegible] no one remedy has ever been known which cured [illegible] such dangerous cases as this Some no human [illegible] but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords [illegible] comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY March 5 1856

[illegible] AYER, LOWELL I feel it a duty and a pleasure [illegible] what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my [illegible] been five months laboring under the dangerous [illegible] consumption from which no aid we could [illegible] relief. No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, Whit[illegible] [illegible] Blu[illegible]
With the stars of a Union [illegible]
Arise and defend it [illegible]
Whose blood [illegible]

TUESDAY MORNING DEC 1 186[illegible]

Complimentary to the People.—The Marysville Express is becoming greatly disgusted with the action of the masses who are determined to disobey its treasonable teaching and to support the Union. Its last growl is in these words:

> As this reign of terror must come to an end at some time, it will be well if the radicals have full swing. Let the velvet disappear from the tiger's paw, and let the people feel the sharp claws of Abolition government penetrate through their calves hide. Nothing short of this is likely to make them understand their degradation and assert their manhood."

Think of that, ye dear people! This Democratic organ has forgotten all its honied phrases about popular intelligence and now calls you calves, simply because you would not submit to its dictation and sacrifice your country upon the infamous altar of a party which betrayed and sold the Nation to slaveholders and demagogues. This war is the fruit of its infernal devices, and because you are disgusted with and repudiate its iniquity, the Express shows its sublime rage by berating you as "calves." Let it rave! The poor silly traitor may soon discover that even calves have too much sense to be fooled by his impudent rascality.

Union of Vermont Colleges.—At a meeting in Montpelier (Vt.) October 22d, to discuss the proposed union of the University of Vermont, Middlebury College and Norwich University in one institution, in connection with the Agricultural College to be established under the recent Act of Congress, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That a junction of the existing collegiate institutions of the State will directly and powerfully promote the educational welfare of the Commonwealth.

Resolved, That the probable establishment of a new State College, under the provisions of the recent Act of Congress for the establishment of Agricultural Colleges, furnishes a legitimate opportunity for an effort to combine the strength of existing Colleges with that of the new State College, and thus forming one State University that shall concentrate upon itself the educational interest and power of our whole people.

The above suggests a thought worthy of consideration by the friends of collegiate education in Oregon. Are they not in some measure spending their strength in vain in trying to accomplish more than the present or the prospective wants of the State for a long time to come, actually demand? We believe nothing decisive has yet been done in regard to the endowment of an Agricultural College. Would it not be advisable for the patrons of our different embryo Colleges to inquire whether some plan of consolidation cannot be adopted, which will secure to Oregon a first class institution that shall "concentrate upon itself the educational interest and power of our whole people?"

The Railroad to California.—The Marysville Appeal says that the California stockholders met at Yreka pursuant to notice on the 13th of November, J. Berry, Esq., presiding, and Elijah Wadsworth acting as temporary Secretary. Having heard Mr. Elliott's report of progress, and considered the plan of the Oregonians, the meeting proceeded to organize a Company for this State, under the name of the California and Oregon Railroad Company, and elected the following Directors for the year ensuing: Elijah Steele, Elijah Wadsworth, John Andrews and J. Berry, of Siskiyou; H. A. Curtis and Benj. Shurtleff, of Shasta; Jno. Bidwell, of Butte; F. J. McCann, J. S. Belcher, S. G. Elliott, Wm. Gwynn, of Yuba; E. F. Northrum, of San Francisco. The following resolution passed:

Resolved, That it is the express desire of the stockholders in the California and Oregon Railroad Company, that the Directors of said Company make the necessary arrangements to send S. G. Elliott as their Agent to Washington for the purpose of laying the claims and merits of the enterprise before Congress and soliciting grants of land, right of way and such other aid as Congress may see fit to bestow, both for the benefit of the California and Oregon parties who have this Railroad project in hand.

Terribly Enraged.—Since the elections, Democratic newspapers are exceedingly bitter in their abuse of their old comrades who refuse to assist them in their crusade against the Government and the Union. They appear to have expected that at the whistle of the file leaders, the whole Democracy would rush to the ballot boxes as of old, voting for the devil even, if he was the candidate. But they slipped up considerably, and the following is a fair specimen of their wrath:

> The Harrisburg (Pa.) [illegible]—what an outrageous perversion of title—the chief organ of Judge Woodward, in a bit of special [illegible] concerning war Democrats, says: "They are generally the most arrant cowards and meanest dogs in creation. If we had the power to launch one curse that would consume whatever it fell upon, the blatant war democrats should have the benefit of it."

Not Afraid to Avow their Love for the Union.—Cincinnati papers state that the venerable Catholic Archbishop Purcell, accompanied by Bishop Rosecrans, appeared at the polls in that city on election day for the first time in twenty five years, and voted an open Union ticket. Both these church dignitaries took special pains to express their hopes among the people that the cause of the country might receive a general and cordial support. The Union majority in the county was 6,300.

German National Convention.—In the last week of October a [illegible] was held at Cleveland, Ohio, for the purpose of organizing the liberal party of the German element in the United States. There were one hundred and eighteen delegates present, representing over forty [illegible] of the northern States and three of the other States, viz: Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Tennessee, Maryland and the District of Columbia. The following resolution was passed previous to effecting the proposed organization:

> The German Convention [illegible] formed [illegible] will take an entirely [illegible]. They are [illegible] party organization and [illegible] of the parties [illegible] to the same such support [illegible] independent action [illegible] his organization will in future [illegible] party [illegible] independent power.

A vote of thanks to the army was passed, with special mention of the Germans participating in the present war.

Not Satisfied.—The Richmond Examiner, while it exults over Bragg's movements against Chattanooga, does not consider the result of the present operations by any means decisive. The writer cannot consider any victory complete that leaves Chattanooga in our hands. East Tennessee is the stake at issue. The Examiner attempts to explain why the Confederates have never reaped any substantial benefit from their most fortunate achievements. It says:

> It has become the settled system of the enemy to prepare before giving battle some strong [illegible] in his rear on which he can fall back after defeat, and rely by his own reinforcements and [illegible] that courage could not secure. The generals of the United States know well [illegible] whether eastern or western consist in [illegible] the first onset of a southern army. [illegible] protract the contest and [illegible] without a rout till they reach their reserve. [illegible] Why? Because the southern army [illegible] after a victory. Generals and troops [illegible] an exhibition proper to school boys. The men straggle, the officers drink and all brag of the wonders done by our division. Hence it is that none of the southern leaders have been able to secure the fruits of victory. Beauregard, Lee, Johnston, Bragg, each in turn has been censured for not pursuing advantages which would in other countries and by other generals have certainly been rendered decisive of the war. None of their battles have helped the country towards a peace, always for the same reason—that when the golden fruit was within their reach they suddenly found themselves without an army to grasp it.

Revelations of a Rebel Mail Bag.—In the captures, by our troops at Cumberland Gap was a rebel mail bag, the contents of which have afforded both amusement and instruction to those who have examined them. Among other things the letters confirmed beyond all question the fact that the Georgia troops are as dissatisfied as any in the Confederate service. Out of the large number of Georgia letters in the mail, but two displayed any confidence whatever in the rebel cause. One gentleman wrote home for his wife not to sell his two pigs for Confederate money, as it was worthless. Another says:

> If this war ain't closed soon there will be no men left. We can't fight a world full of men—the South can't stand it much longer—our men are all deserting.

Another is more explicit:

> I have not seen men so out of heart. You had better set your house in order, for by Christmas we shall be back in the Union. If peace don't come soon we will all desert.

This is the spirit displayed in all, or nearly all these letters—a spirit of utter dispair for the rebel cause, and a willingness to take the Union on any terms so it brings peace.

The Wounded on the Field of Battle.—A correspondent of the Chicago Journal writes:

> If anybody thinks that when our men are stricken upon the field of battle they fill the air with their cries and groans till it shivers with such cadences he greatly errs. An arm is shattered, a leg carried away, or a bullet pierces the breast, and the soldier sinks down silently upon the ground, or creeps away if he can, without a murmur or complaint; falls as the sparrow falls, speechlessly; and I do think for my own part I earnestly believe not without the Father. The lying horse gives out his fearful utterance of almost human suffering, but the mangled rider is dumb. The crash of musketry, the crack of rifle, the roar of guns, the shrieks of shells, the rebel whoop, the Federal cheer, and the indescribable undertone of grinding, rumbling, splintering sound make up the voices of the battle field.

A Rebel Confession.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 3d of October, in an editorial says:

> The rapid advance in all necessaries of clothing and subsistence threatens us with great distress. There is no disguising the fact. * * * A defeat on the battle field could hardly bring more suffering. * * * We know that the currency is depreciated, but it is not depreciated as much as prices indicate. * * * Produce must be distributed—prices must be reduced—grains must be disgorged—or there will be suffering intense and intense suffering will beget—what? Think of it.

> War Democrats.—This miserable solecism has not yet become obsolete as we perceive by eastern and western papers. A good bad man or a pretty tutu of purity have quite as much significance as a war Democrat. There can be no such absurd incongruous thing. The man who calls himself a war Democrat is either an unmixed fool or a wicked and detestable hypocrite.—Memphis Bu[illegible]

Thus this champion of Democracy and Jeff Davis declares that no Democrat can be for the war.

A Good Place to Emigrate from.—A correspondent of a St. John paper writing from Halifax, Nova Scotia, says:

> It is a strange and deplorable fact that fifty per cent of the young men of this Province leave it early, and at an age I might say when they are just the bone and sinew of the country, and seek an asylum in a foreign land (the United States), there to earn fame as well as a comfortable living, which half they remained here a hundred years they never could accomplish.

The Question Fairly Put.—The Louisville Journal says that there is no use talking about negotiations with the Richmond Government. Our negotiations must be with the rebels in arms for [illegible] the field, and the sooner these negotiations are [illegible] the better. All those in the Federal [illegible] in favor of requiring the South to submit to the Union and the Constitution will say [illegible] giving up their arms. All those in rebel [illegible] in favor of yielding to the requirement [illegible] by laying down their arms or running.

Combination.—The Albany D[illegible] says there will be no opposition line of steamers on the upper Willamette during the present season, as the new boat—the Enterprise—built by Capt. Pease, will run in connection with the People's Transportation line—freight and passage remaining as at present.

EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to November 22.

After the entrance of General Banks, Cabas, with his forces, advanced on Matamoras, drove out Ruiz, who was favorable to the United States, and [illegible] refuge in Brownsville. Cabas then hoisted the French flag. On the following day Cabas was [illegible] by the Ruiz party. Cabas was [illegible] compelled to fly by [illegible] Matamoras [illegible] a proclamation [illegible] re-establishing the Mexican Constitution [illegible] Juarez [illegible] again at Brownsville. Cortinas has shown his friendship for the Union by [illegible] the steamers to General Banks on the night [illegible]. No one hurt. Another revolution [illegible] Matamoras but it failed to [illegible] kept in readiness that [illegible] across [illegible] the American Consulate.

Washington, Nov. 21.—It is said that General Rosecrans will go on, rather has been assigned to the command of the Department of Baltimore. General Schenck will give up that command on the 1st of December and take his seat in Congress.

It is officially announced that General John G. Foster will relieve General Burnside of the command of the Department and Army of the Ohio. The Department will hereafter consist of the State of Kentucky north of the Tennessee river and such parts of Tennessee as may be occupied by the troops of that army.

An important official order was issued to day which announces that all regiments re-enlisting are given thirty days furlough before their service expires to return home.

New York, Nov. 22.—An Army of the Potomac dispatch dated November 21st states that the army is not advancing. The rains have caused some mud, but the roads will soon be dry.

The Washington special dispatch of the Herald states that little apprehension is felt for the safety of Burnside. The junction of Sherman with Thomas enables Grant to reinforce Burnside.

A Knoxville letter to the Herald, dated November 7th, mentions a fight between Union and rebel North Carolinians on French Broad river, in which the former whipped the latter. During the fight many rebel regiments skedaddled to the Union [illegible].

The Times has an Annapolis (Md.) letter of November 1[illegible], containing a list of thirty paroled Union prisoners arrived from Richmond. They confirm the previous account of horrible hardship and suffering.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The Times special says the recent capture of the blockade runners off Cape Fear river (N. C.) has so frightened the North Carolina authorities that they have given up the business and let out the privilege of importing contraband goods to private parties.

A gentleman who has arrived from Fortress Monroe says the correspondence of the respective agents for the exchange of prisoners has degenerated into personalities and the loss of mutual confidence which impairs their usefulness.

The payments for all branches of the public service for the fiscal year ending June next will reach [illegible] 000,000, of which amount $[illegible]00,000,000 are for the army and [illegible],000,000 for the navy. A sufficiency of money has been placed in the hands of Paymasters to pay the troops during the present month.

The American Question in England.—All England seems to be stirred and agitated with the American question. Orators from North and South are traversing the country, rousing enthusiasm and trying to enlist the support of the people, and vast meetings are held in all the great cities to listen to them. By the European news of this morning we observe that Henry Ward Beecher, who had previously spoken to multitudes in Glasgow and Manchester, has held forth to a dense crowd in Liverpool, and that he would next mount the platform of Exeter Hall in London. Beside Beecher, Colonel Lamar, of Georgia, has been speaking in Liverpool, defending Southern institutions (slavery and rebellion) and bespeaking the sympathy of England for the Confederacy. Beresford Hope, Lindsay and Roundell Palmer have also just delivered their views of the war—the two former pro rebel and the latter (the Solicitor General) ministerial or neutral. We rather like this commotion that is going on in England, and though we doubt not Beecher's congregation are very anxious to have him back in Brooklyn, we think they would do well to give him a furlough until the loss of the year [illegible] roughly stir up the stolid souls and [illegible] of Englishmen and give the London Times something to talk about.—New York Times, Oct. 28d.

East Tennessee.—Immediately after his occupation of Knoxville, Gen. Burnside organized a National Guard to embrace all the loyal men of East Tennessee. We are gratified to learn that the ranks are being rapidly filled up. A new United States artillery regiment is being formed at Knoxville, and over 600 men joined it at once. If we can hold East Tennessee (as we feel certain) we may obtain 20,000 soldiers from that section of the State. We also learn that there is a large able bodied population left in spite of the rebel conscription, and that it is a source of profound surprise to see a country so full of wealth in the form of agricultural produce. The corn crop is enormous, the wheat crop was large, but not excellent in quality. The rebel army had not time to seize all this wealth. Had our entrance been deferred 10 days longer sufficient subsistence would have been seized in East Tennessee to maintain an army of 100,000 men for nine months. Cattle [illegible] are said to be by no means scarce. The farmers have made out to secure more or less of their live stock from the claws of the Quartermaster. [illegible] the farmers [illegible] Confederate scrip [illegible] the cattle in East Tennessee [illegible] policy for the rebels [illegible] a beef growing district.—[illegible]

The [illegible] on McClellan by his Next Friend.—Gen. McClellan, son of Judge Woodward, of Pennsylvania. Our views agree. [illegible] after that Judge had rendered a decision [illegible] the law of the Pennsylvania Legislature permitting the Pennsylvania troops to vote [illegible] other troops have voted, Judge Woodward was himself a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, the Democratic nominee against the [illegible] patriot A. G. Curtin, and knew that the troops would vote for Curtin and against [illegible] a case in which [illegible] McClellan [illegible] letter [illegible] declaring that he was [illegible] Woodward [illegible] agreed.

[illegible] John Minor Botts [illegible] whose house near [illegible] during the occupancy of that [illegible] the retreat of Gen. Meade's army [illegible] by the rebels [illegible] held [illegible] for certain parties [illegible] the imprudent [illegible] to Mr. [illegible] cause of [illegible]

Burglars About.—Yesterday morning at about [illegible] o'clock two burglars attempted to enter the residence of Wm. S. Ogden, Esq., on Couch's Addition, but were alarmed at the door by the barking of a dog. They then repaired to the house of Mr. Wm. A. Daly, near by, entered by a window, opened all the doors, rummaged all the rooms except that in which the family slept, and only took fright upon being discovered as they opened the bed room door. They stole a gold watch and chain valued at $200 and what change Mr. D. chanced to leave in his vest, which, with his watch, had been accidentally left in the dining room on a sewing machine near to the window by which they had entered. They were in the house about fifty minutes. Mrs. D. heard some one moving about and once come in contact with a chair; she mentioned it to her husband, who thought the noise was caused by rats. She could not sleep, however, and just as the clock was striking three one of the burglars opened the door, and afforded a glimpse of his general outline. The lady exclaimed "There's the man now!" Mr. Daly sprung out of bed but the man's means of egress were such as to secure him against surprise. His accomplice was on the back porch and they fled together. Mr. Ogden, who got up after hearing the noise at his own door, saw them distinctly as they ran away, and describes them as rather low built men. Mr. Daly having recently returned from the mines the burglars doubtless expected a good haul. It would be well if our citizens were more on the lookout for such men.

Telegraph Wire Arrived.—The steamer [illegible] brought up 30,000 pounds of wire for the Oregon and California Telegraph Line. There were 222 coils landed, each containing a half mile of wire, making one hundred and eleven miles of the line, to be added to Salem and run toward the Yreka end of the route. A portion of the wire was sent to [illegible] yesterday, and the work of putting it up commences to-day. The wires will be fixed at the rate of five miles per day from either end, and we may, therefore, if no untoward accident occurs, anticipate its completion by [illegible]ary 1st, 1864.

Another Good Move of the Overland [illegible] Company.—We are informed by Geo. Whitehouse, Esq., Cashier of the Company, that arrangements have been completed by which the mail passengers and express matter of the Overland route will be conveyed to and from Oregon City per steamer. This arrangement, which goes into effect to-day, will be of great advantage to the public, and we hope it may result, perhaps contrary to their present anticipations, of equal benefit to themselves.

[illegible] Aground in a Fog.—The steamship [illegible], Capt. A. M. Burns, while running [illegible] the Willamett, in a fog, on Sunday [illegible] put her nose on Sauvie's Island, about two hundred yards above the Columbia, where she still lay at the Hunt came up last night. The steamer Julia went to her assistance at 2 A. M. yesterday, and is still along[side], lightening her. A small steamer was sent down with a suply of fresh beef yesterday afternoon.

[illegible] Rampant.—The other morning we noticed the putting up of a significant sketch on [illegible] by the proprietor of the Temperance [illegible] which evidently pointed at the saloon [illegible] door. Yesterday morning, a counter [illegible] representing a gnarley horned male of the [illegible] genus was put up by the opposition, [illegible] which ramifies the subject, even if the [illegible] provoked, rendered unsuccessful the [illegible] attempt at mollescence. We question the delicacy, if not the general taste of [illegible] a public display of retaliation.

A Curiosity in a Way.—Messrs. Weil [illegible] & Co., a few doors north of this office, have in their show case a spool of machine [thread] containing 2000 yards! It was fabricated for the International Exhibition, London, 1862, whence it has just been received [illegible] the head of the firm now in London. It [is a] curiosity, especially when compared with [the] ordinary 200 yd spool. It is about six [inc]hes long and about equal diameter with a very beautifully enameled representation of the Crystal Palace on a velvet base, at one [end]. The cotton is excellent quality, and [wou]ld no doubt last a small family some time.

Steamer Sierra Nevada.—This steamer [left] the last evening and her arrival is hourly [expec]ted. Should she arrive this morning, [her] news will be four days later than our latest dispatches, provided the communication [from] the East has been uninterrupted.

Another Fruit Exportation.—The bark [illegible] Alley Co[illegible] Freeman, which goes [dow]n to Westport this morning, carries away [one] hundred and thirty boxes apples, destined [for] the San Francisco market.

Letter List.—On our fourth page will be found an interesting [illegible] story, set up from the original manuscript of our friend Plum[mer], Deputy Post Master. It will be published in a series of monthly numbers.

Burning of Lumber Mills.—The extensive lumber mills at Mebecino have been entirely destroyed by fire, loss $150,000. They [were] owned in San Francisco.

Shipment of Apples by Pacific.—The [steamer] Pacific carried away between 6,000 [and] 7,000 boxes of choice fruit for San Francisco.

[illegible] Wilson G. Hunt last night brought [up] some one hundred passengers. Wells, [Fargo] & Co. received only about $12,000.

Friends across the Sea

When [illegible] with [illegible] fingers [illegible]
Night's veil from off her [illegible]
And [illegible]
Along the [illegible]
I think [illegible] kind—
Of voices dear to me,
And memory whispers to my heart
Of friends across the sea

When stars come out like [illegible]
To gem the blue above
And hang along the [illegible]
Their burning lamps of [illegible]
I dream of smiles that light [illegible] homes
Beside [illegible]
And memory whispers to [illegible]
Of friends across the sea

Though time brings [illegible]
And wound on [illegible]
Remember Him who [illegible] the storm
And bade the [illegible]
For he can raise each [illegible]
Whate'er [illegible]
Then let us trust [illegible]
Dear friends across the sea

O'er great Pacific's [illegible]
Though I have wandered far,
Within each heart [illegible]
Like twinkling [illegible] Star
For I would live in each [illegible] breast,
And not forgotten be,
Nor let fond memory sing in vain,
Of friends across the sea

A SLIGHT MISTAKE — Artemus Ward relates the following incident on his return home from the wars

I was walkin' along the street lookin' so gallant an' gay in me brass kote an' blue buttons, an' other military harness, when a excited femail rusht out of a house, throwed her plump handles aroun' me neck—which part I didn't mind much, as they was fair, round ones—an' exclaimed

"Doo I behold thee once again?"

"You doo—an' I think you are holding me too fastly," sez I, trying to release the excentrick femail's arms

"O, hev you cum back—hev you cum back?" she wildly cried, hangin' tighter to my neck

"Certinly, I've cum back," sez I, "or else I wouldn't be here. But I don't think I know you muchly."

"Not know me—your own Claretta Rosetta Belletta—she who has not sot eyes onto you for more'n two years. Yes," she continued, placin' her hands onto me shoulders, an' lookin' up into me face like a dyin' horse fly—"yes, I see my own Alfred's eyes, his nose, his ears, his—"

"Madam," sez I, "excoose me, but allow me to correct you. Ef I air not mistaken these earses, an' eyeses, an' noses belong to myself individoolly, an' your Alfred never owned 'em, scarcely!"

"Away with this farce," sez she. "You can't deseeve your own Claretta. Cum into the house and see your little son, Lincoln Burnside McClellan Beazer."

It was evident the femail was mistaken—that it was not me, but another man she wantid.

"How old is he?" sez I

"Which?" sez she

"Them little son, Lincoln Burnside McClellan, an' so 4th."

"He's just six months old—the little darling!"

"Wall, madam," sez I, "ef little Lincoln McClellan Burnside, an' so 4th, is only 6 months old, an' you haven't sot eyes onto your Alfred for more'n 2 years, I think there's a mistake somewhar an' that I'm not Alfred, but another man altogether."

The woman shot into the house like 40 an' that was the last I saw of her, but I pity "Alfred."

HOWL OVER HIGH PRICES —The rapid advance in all necessaries of clothing and subsistence threatens us with great distress. We cannot see how unemployed persons, and how those who live on incomes and salaries, are to get along, especially at the inclement season of the year now approaching. How are they to buy shoes and clothing at the present rates? Nay, how long are these rates to prevail? A great auction may in a day or two run them all up fifty per cent! An auction thus has become to be regarded by the people with as much dread as a battle. A defeat on the battle-field could hardly bring more suffering upon them.

There is hardly any more encouragement to be derived from looking at the produce market. With ample supplies, by the blessing of Providence, through the country, we find the receipts in this market alarmingly limited. Holders are, therefore, enabled to run up prices out of all reason, and out of all conscience, these obstacles to oppression of a community weighing nothing with them, since they care nothing for reason, and have no consciences.

We know that the currency is depreciated, but it is not depreciated as much as prices would indicate. There are causes originating in the cupidity and heartlessness of men employed in commerce and in agriculture which are weighing down the people and the cause, and which are threatening both more than the currency. Can the practice of these people be reformed? Can the distress they occasion be moderated by checking their extravagant demand upon consumers? These questions are growing daily more and more important. Something must be done. Produce must be distributed, prices must be reduced, gains must be disgorged, or there will be suffering intense, and intense suffering will beget what? Think of it.—Richmond Dispatch Oct 3d.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD MASS, 20th Dec, 1855.

DR J C AYER [illegible] to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use [illegible] family [illegible] superior virtues for the treatment of those complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M D

A B MORTLEY ESQ OF UTICA N Y writes [illegible] your Pectoral [illegible] family [illegible] bottle than [illegible] or take any other remedy.

Croup, Whooping Cough, [illegible]

BROTHER AYER I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, [illegible]

AMOS LEE ESQ MONTEREY IA writes [illegible] I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me [illegible] took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral [illegible] be the [illegible] soreness in my throat and lungs [illegible] your medicine [illegible] as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you [illegible] your remedies as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA, [illegible]

SIR Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing [illegible] in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.
HENRY L. PARKS, [illegible]

A A RAMSEY M D ALBION, MONROE Co [illegible] Sept 6, 1855 [illegible] During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach, but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, [illegible]

DOCTOR AYER LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, [illegible]

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicine and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
